

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Washington Property Company is guided by its core values of integrity, fairness and a commitment to excellence. The management of WPC, which has life-long roots in the community, brings those same values and commitment to the company's role as a responsible corporate citizen working to help improve the quality of life. That commitment includes a special relationship with Children's National Medical Center and has raised thousands of dollars to help bring world class health care to children in this area regardless of their ability to pay for it.
